Research Support Framework

The fourth round of the John Coolahan Research Support Framework launched on 2 June 2020 and applications will be accepted until 3pm on Thursday 16 July. The Guidance Notes for this round are available here and the application form is available here. Please ensure that you read the Guidance Notes in full before you complete the form.

The Framework offers support to teachers and others conducting new research, or sharing, synthesising or applying existing research in their practice, either independently or in collaboration with others. The Framework forms a key part of the Council's CROÍ Research Series (Collaboration and Research for Ongoing Innovation) which places a strong emphasis on research activities which strengthen the links between research, policy and practice, and on collaboration among teachers, and between teachers and other stakeholders in education.

Round Four Application Form (Please download and save the form before completing. You will need Adobe Reader to access all links and to submit the form using the 'Submit Application' button at the end. If you do not have Adobe Reader on your device you can download it for free here).

Learning for All - Webinar Series

Learning for All is a live webinar series from the Teaching Council and Professional Development Service for Teachers (PDST) which started on Tuesday, 31 March, to help support learning from home in these changing times.

From the online to the offline, we hope to connect all the good practice that is currently taking place during school closures, and to help support each other during this period. School leaders and teachers are providing enormous support and care, and we would like to bring the community together to respond to today's needs in a supportive manner.

Our next webinar is called 'Supporting Online Assessment and Feedback' and will be streamed live on Tuesday, 26 May 2020 at 12pm.
